自從ETA機芯事件後，很多品牌均開始生產及研發屬於自己的機芯，而今年看起來，品牌的努力日見成績。好像LVMH集團收購寶格麗的百分之五十一的股份之餘，又購入以生產機芯技術見稱的高級製表工場La Fabrique du Temps；還有Richard Mille的RM 035及Extra Flat Automatic。我常常跟品

牌說，現時中國市場暢旺，他們要的東西其實很簡單，圓形、三針，再加上自動機芯和擁有日曆功能，他們就會喜歡了。

至於另一特色，我認為是較為細規模的品牌，又或是獨立品牌的湧現，由於品牌在名氣方面難與大公司比較，很多時候會把預算投放在物料方面，從而在質量上可與大品牌爭一日之長短。而且由於產量較少，所以整副心思會被投放在每一枚腕錶上，不論質量還是技術，均會保持很好的水準。所以我們行今年也引入更多獨立品牌，以讓熱愛腕錶的人士，有更多的選擇。

Taking the ETA movement issue into consideration, many watch brands have started to develop their own movements and some very good records have been made. For example, apart from buying 51% of BVLGARI's controlling stake, the LVMH Group also acquired the haute horlogerie atelier La Fabrique du Temps which is known for manufacturing quality movements, and Richard Mille created the outstanding Extra Flat Automatic and RM 035. I have always told my friends working at watch companies: "The China market is booming and what customers want is simple: models with a round case, three hands, driven by an automatic movement featuring a date window."

Another major trend is the emergence of smaller brands and independent watchmakers. Given that their competitiveness in terms of reputation is incomparable to the bigger brands, they are more willing to invest in the use of materials, which makes them more attractive and competitive in another way. As their productions are usually very small, they are capable of taking extremely detailed and meticulous care in each and every timepiece produced, hence the quality is guaranteed. This year, David Watch Limited is going to carry a number of independent watchmaking brands, offering more variety to connoisseurs and watch aficionados.
